ASKS PUBLIC TO AID RED CROSS

Statement Reviews Work Done and Says Further
Support Is Needed.

VAST FIELD IS COVERED

Sixty-three Surgeons, 217 Nurses, and Twelve Sanitation Experts Sent to Europe.

In a review of war relief operations from August 1, 1914, to April 8, 1915, the American Red Cross announces that further contributions from the public are necessary if the organization is to continue its work on the present scale.

The summary published here points out that on August 13 President Wilson, as president of the Red Cross, issued an appeal to the American public for funds in support of the war relief work in Europe. "Since then," the Red Cross states, "no appeal for financial aid has been issued by the President or the national officers. The people of Europe, however, from all parts of the country, but the magnitude of the Red Cross work and the vast extent of the field involved in its labors have rapidly diminished its funds and demonstrated the great need for further financial aid."

Relief Work Reviewed.

The review of the war relief work shows that the Red Cross has received a total of $1,350,022 in contributions from the public generally.
The organization has also received $25,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation for Sanitary Commission, which is for the special work against the typhus fever epidemic in Serbia. Of these funds there is now on hand an unexpended balance of $171,843. The headquarters here point out that none of the administrative expenses of the Red Cross are paid out of contributions received for war relief. These expenses, amounting to $11,291 so far, have been met by the American Red Cross from its own funds.

Sixty-three surgeons, 217 nurses and twelve members of a sanitary commission have been sent to Europe by the American Red Cross since the war began. Tons of hospital and medical supplies have been supplied to the front. The Red Cross has also received for the Red Cross 7,685 cases and 2,887 packages of hospital supplies, surgical supplies and clothing, are valued at more than $500,000.
In addition to the personnel and supplies sent to Europe by the American Red Cross, financial assistance has been given to a score of relief organizations in Europe and Asia Minor.

Purely Personal

Miss Grace Murphy, Miss Helen Huchinson and Miss Katharine Harding will be the "musicians of the hour" in Mrs.
Christian Hemmick's play, "The Opium Pipe," to be presented at the Belasco on April 27.

Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, is vice president of the most distinguished members of the National Academy of Sciences, which begins its fifty-second annual convention here today.

Mr. Allan Potts, of Gordonsville, the only woman master of hounds in Virginia, says she intends to ride all of her entries in the hunting class in the National Capital horse show, which will begin May 8.

A Bruce Bielaski, chief of the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, showed his friends that he is a specialist in the hunting class in the Na-
begin May 8.

Mrs. John Sloane, daughter of Thomas E. Edison, has accepted the invitation of Secretary of the Navy Daniels to christen the new submarine L-4, being built at Portsmouth, N. H.

Mrs. Emma R. Graves, who has been on sick leave, suffering from a gripe, is expected to return to her desk in the office of the Treasurer of the United States within a few days. She has been employed in the office for fifty-one years.

American in War Dispatches.

Paris, April 18.—The first American to be mentioned in French dispatches is Maurice Rene Daltos, 24 years old, great grandson of the late Charles Secor, shipbuilder and railroad contractor. As chief corporal and telephone operator, attached to the general staff, he spent fifty days under fire repairing telephone wires.

Miss Anna Thomas Loses.

Miss Anna P. Thomas lost her suit against the District for $10,000 damages on April 8, instead of winning the verdict as was reported. The report was due to a mechanical error. Miss Thomas sued because she sustained injuries when she slipped on ice at Eighteenth and California streets on February 20. A jury in Circuit division 2, of the District Supreme Court, returned a verdict in favor of the District.

JANE ADDAMS, OF CHICAGO

Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, has been nominated as one of the four women most influential and helpful in the war at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco. Miss Addams is known from coast to coast and from the Lakes to the Gulf, having spoken "for the cause" and for various uplift movements in thousands of cities and towns.

HUNDREDS OF BANKS OFFER RIGGS SUPPORT

Officials Pledge to Attach Little Importance to Assurances Given President Glover.

In the absence of actual developments in the situation resulting from the Riggs Bank's injunction suit against the Comptroller of the Currency, William and other officials of the Treasury Department, interest was absorbed here yesterday in a discussion of the political aspects of the case. Much speculation was heard as to the result to be attained by the bank's appeal for the moral support of the other national banks.

It was disclosed that the assurances given the Riggs Bank in this particular Glover from banks in various sections of the country have reached the hundreds, many of them embodying stout expressions of whole-hearted approval of the action of Mr. Glover and his associates.
Many officials, however, profess to attach little importance to the assurances given the Riggs Bank in this particular.
Expression of approval merely will count for little, it is pointed out, unless the banks sending them determine to exert their influence upon public opinion to the utmost to bring not only Comptroller Williams, but the Wilson administration into disfavor.

The importance of the influence possessed by bank officials generally for swaying public opinion and political influence in the belief that the other banks will hesitate a long time before taking up the cudgels for the bank under fire.

It was indicated more clearly than ever yesterday that President Wilson is sufficiently satisfied with the merits of the case which Comptroller Williams has formulated against the Riggs Bank to be content to make the fight an out-and-out administration affair.

WANDERLUSTERS TAKE ANNIVERSARY TRAMP

Walk Over Route Traveled Year Ago, Led by John Boyle, Jr., 355 on Hike.

The Wanderlusts yesterday enjoyed a seven-mile walk in celebrating the day one year ago when the "Community walks" were inaugurated in the National Capital by John Boyle, jr., Titus Uke and J. Harry Shannon.
The walk was led by Mr. Boyle and the route was along the same lines as that of the first hike a year ago.
Three hundred and fifty-five Wanderlusts were in the party. They met at 2:15 o'clock at the old Bright-wood Hotel in Georgia avenue. The hike started from Georgia avenue and Military road, through the woods of Rock Creek. There was a stop at the Joachim Miller Cabin for a drink of spring water and another stop for spring water at the District line spring house.

From the spring house, the hike led along Kalmia avenue and Beech drive into the woods, along the course of Rock Creek, and across farm lands to Chevy Chase, where the hike was made at 6:30 o'clock. The hikers boarded cars at the lake and returned to the city. Nearly all the hikers gathered spring flowers along the route. A score of new faces were seen among the walk lovers.

A feature of the hike was the presence of photographers. A "panoram," as the photographers call it, was taken of the 355 hikers at the starting point and a staff photographer from Collier's accompanied the walkers and procured a number of good pictures during the seven-mile walk.

DR. H. M. CANTER PREACHES.

Gives First Sermon Since He Became Elder.

Dr. H. M. Canter, recently appointed preaching elder of the Washington district, Methodist Episcopal Church South, yesterday morning delivered the first sermon he has preached in the city since his elevation to the eldership at Mount Vernon Place Church, Ninth street and Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Dr. Canter is well known in Washington as a son of Rev. I. W. Canter, formerly pastor of Mount Vernon Place Church. His sermon yesterday was an eloquent discourse, dealing with the importance and value of apparently insignificant things and the unexpected developments resulting from their use.

Rev. Edward K. Hardin, the pastor of the church, preached the evening sermon.

In 1914 Wales exported $71,244 worth of tinplate to the United States.

SINKS AS FRIEND SWIMS TO LAND

Express Company Employee Drowns in Potomac While Half Dozen Are Near.

BOAT TIPPED BY ANCHOR

Companion, Striking Out for Shore, Did Not Know the Other
Was in Peril.

Within a few feet of a half dozen boaters, and while his companion, George S. Cooper, of 607 K street northwest, swam to safety, Lawrence Ricker, 23, an employee of the Wells-Fargo Express Company, drowned yesterday in the Potomac River just above the Chain Bridge.

Cooper and Rickier, the latter living at 769 Seventh street northeast, had been rowing on the river and taking camera pictures of the scenery for some time. About 1:30 o'clock they dropped anchor 100 yards above the bridge.

The anchor rope became taut and the bow of the boat was drawn under. As it tipped, the men jumped. Cooper struck out for the shore, fifty feet distant. He swam on, not knowing his friend was in distress.

Three other boats were being paddled near the scene, but none of the occupants knew a man was sinking within their reach. Cooper waited on the land for his friend, and then alarmed people on the river and the harbor police.

The body of Rickier has not been recovered.

BRYAN DRAWS LESSON FROM GOLIATH'S FALL

It Is Only Spiritual Power that Knows No Fear, Says Secretary in Sermon.

Speaking at the evening services of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Thirtieth and Fairmont streets northwest, last night, Secretary of State Bryan, the leading political apostle of peace, drew a lesson in preparedness from the Biblical story of David and Goliath.

"These Bible characters," said Mr.
Bryan, "fit into our daily life. The story of David and Goliath illustrates the influence of circumstances on life. It is the old story of preparedness and opportunity. That is the constant lesson of history. It is the little circumstances coming together that shape our lives.
Somebody present at a certain place at a certain time makes history. We know not what moment will be the supreme one of our life."

"King Saul was unwilling to enter the contest, but he was willing to lend his armor to David to do the fighting. David kept the armor to which he was accustomed, knowing that imitation cannot make success."

"The giant Goliath was swollen with the insolence of his bigness. Error is always insolent. It is the cowardice of good people which tolerates insoluence. Faith is confidence. Goliath trusted in his armor. David had faith in God."

"We cannot measure spiritual power, for it is the spiritual power which knows no fear. Moral courage is what the world needs today. The source of this is God. Man shares moral courage with his subjects. He is not often the supreme physical courage is needed, but there is never a moment or an hour when moral courage is not needed."

Mr. Bryan was introduced by Rev.
Dr. Joseph T. Kelly, pastor of the church. He announced that he would speak on two other occasions this year.
Joseph W. Miller, of the Interstate Commission, will speak next Sunday night.

U. S. OFFICIALS THINK VILLA IS DEFEATED

Rumor of Decisive Victory for Carranza Forces Is Doubtful, However.

A controversy is still in progress between Villistas and Carranzistas as to the results of the fighting at Cejuela last week, where Obregon claims to have won a most decisive victory. The State Department has not yet received any report from George Carothers, who is with Villa, a fact which is regarded as significant in itself, but the opinion in official quarters is that Villa has been defeated, though probably not to the extent Obregon has claimed.

The Villa agency last night announced that Gen. Villa was gathering up all available soldiers from other parts of Mexico to renew the attack upon Gen. Obregon. This statement is regarded as an admission that he got the worst of the two battles in the last two weeks, and is supplemented by a Carranza statement that Villistas have been withdrawn from before Ebanu, in the Tampico district, where fighting for possession of the oil region has been going on for a month.

The Carranzistas last night paid their respects to the boom for Angeles as the compromise man for President of Mexico, confirming the existing understanding that the constitutionalists will not have Villa's chief lieutenant.
The constitutionalist agency received a dispatch from Vera Cruz predicting that the defeat of Villa would result in Angeles attempting to take the lead for the reactionaries. Well informed persons here seem inclined to dismiss the Angeles talk as futile.
